CHCCS in the Community

The Chapel Hill-Carrboro City Schools offer many opportunities for parents and community members to make a difference in the lives and education of our students. Prospects include volunteering in schools, mentoring students, serving on school and district committees, and making donations. Find out more about how you can get involved with CHCCS by browsing the opportunities listed below.

Vision

The Family and Community Engagement Department seeks to support the development of trusting relationships between schools, families, and community partners through shared responsibility, meaningful engagement, collaborative decision-making, and effective communication, in order to ensure that every student receives a quality education.

Mission

To support student success through the implementation of home-school partnership strategies and authentic engagement that ensure families are informed and empowered to engage as equal partners in their children's education.

Family Alcohol Education Program (/fs/pages/4250)

In anticipation of a healthy and safe holiday season, we would like to announce the roll-out of our Family Alcohol Education Program, designed to facilitate productive conversations about alcohol between families and students. The harmful consequences of underage drinking have long-lasting impacts, but underage drinking is preventable. With your critical help, we can support the health and well-being of our students. To help you with these important conversations, we are providing some resources and a video (/fs/pages/4250).
